A co-worker, Steve, brought his personal firearm to work Sunday. He accidentally shot it off in the dispatcher area. I saw the bullet hole in the desk. As you go through the trap (double doors), it's in the first metal desk on the right. The hole is on the right if you're sitting at the desk. It was a 40-caliber Smith & Wesson semi-automatic. A co-worker, LeRoy, told me about it. He said he was there. A female co-worker, Stephanie, was "stung" but didn't bleed from the fragments. The guy in charge, Marcus, didn't tell anyone about it, but he was in charge. He's covering up.
